From Vice Chancellor's Desk

Greetings from Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics (GIPE)!

It is my pleasure to welcome you all to our Institute established in 1930 by the Servants of India Society, founded by Gopal Krishna Gokhale. The objectives of GIPE have always been two-fold. Firstly, to conduct high-quality research on all aspects of economic, social and political issues especially those relating to India. Secondly, to provide excellent and advanced education in economics and various allied disciplines. Currently, the GIPE runs academic programmes offering degrees at an undergraduate, postgraduate and Ph.D. levels.

GIPE has been an integral part of the research community, engaged in producing meaningful and relevant work since its very foundation almost a hundred years ago. The research output over the years, has covered diverse areas such as demography and population studies, agriculture economics, rural development and co-operation, social exclusion, welfare economics, monetary economics and finance, public finance and economics and international economy.

The institute has a beautiful and vibrant, verdant campus located in the heart of Pune city. We are fortunate to host the famous D.R. Gadgil Library which treasures more than 2,80,000 documents. The library has been home to many eminent researchers and scholars over several decades. It has some rare and historic documents such as the first Census report of 1872 and original books dating back all the way to the 17th century. It is a treasured resource being utilized by our students, faculty and researchers alike. Apart from academics and research, the close-knit GIPE family of students, staff and faculty have many cultural activities on campus and celebrate many festivals during the year. The campus activities include sports, music, films, cultural festivals and inter-college competitions. I look forward to your joining us in our wonderful campus. I assure you that your tenure at GIPE will be extremely enriching and rewarding.

With best wishes and regards

Prof. Shankar Das

Vice Chancellor

VISION

“To conduct research, education and extension on the foremost social and economic problems at national and international levels with the aim of providing viable solutions for decision makers for the betterment of human life”.

MISSION

“The Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics will strive to undertake research and provide education in all fields of economics with the singular purpose of contributing its might to enhance economic betterment and social welfare”.

ABOUT GOKHALE INSTITUTE

Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics is one of the oldest research and training Institutes in the field of economics in India. Founded in 1930, with an endowment offered by the late Rao Bahadur R.R. Kale to the Servants of India Society (SIS). SIS was founded by Shri Gopal Krishna Gokhale. The Institute went on to have a rich history and academic research in areas of agricultural economics and rural development, population studies, input-output studies for planning and development, microeconomics, macroeconomics, monetary economics and finance, public economics and international economics.

The objective of the Institute has been to conduct research into the economic and political problems of India and to train research workers in these subjects. Furthering this cause, currently, the Institute offers various courses ranging from bachelors to masters and PhD programs, and by virtue of its expertise in research, often undertakes projects relevant to its core research areas.

The quality of research and education facilitated by Gokhale Institute today has been a joint effort of the current stakeholders and its faculty members. The road for such high standards in the current working of the Institute was paved long back by the first Director of the Institute, late Professor D.R. Gadgil, who prioritized the quality of research, teaching and training at the Institute in a number of branches of economics.

The Institute is registered under the Societies Registration Act, 1860, and the Bombay Public Trusts Act, 1950. For its stellar contribution to Indian society in the form of research work, teaching as well training, the Government of India, on the advice of the University Grants Commission, awarded the Institute the status of a Deemed to be University on May 9, 1993. In the year 2016, the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) has reaccredited the Institute with grade A+, the highest accreditation rating of that time. The Institute has also been given 12-B status by the University Grants Commission in 2018.

About the Ph.D. Programme

In tune with the institutional vision and mission, the Institute offers a research programme leading to the Ph.D. degree in Economics, Agricultural Economics, Population Studies, and Law & Economics, Sociology, Public Policy and Sustainable Development. The Ph.D. programme is applied in nature and students are encouraged to choose research topics that have relevance to the socio-economic problems of the present day society. The Programme offers a compulsory coursework of 16 credits in one semester as a mandatory criterion for Ph.D. registration. The faculty of the Institute is having research interest in various fields of economics, population studies, public policy and sociology. Dr. D.R. Gadgil library of the Institute possesses around 2,80,000 documents covering all branches of knowledge. This includes bound volumes of 1875 journal titles, about 400 unpublished theses and dissertations and CDs, maps, etc. Besides books, the Library also receives 375 periodical titles. The library also subscribes to many online journals available to faculty and students 24*7 in the campus. Institute subscribes to all leading econometric and statistical software and leading database. Candidates who are recipient of UGC – JRF and other fellowships from Government of India and Government of Maharashtra can avail the same during the tenure of the fellowship. The Institute also offers teaching assistantship to all full time Ph.D. scholars with an attractive work profile and remuneration. Travel grant for presenting papers in national and international conferences is another unique feature of GIPE Ph.D. programme.

General Information regarding admission

Candidates must read the prospectus, procedure, and eligibility criteria before applying for the programme. The first and foremost requirement is that candidates must fulfil the essential eligibility criteria to apply for the Ph. D. programme. Candidates must note that the Institute will not refund the 'Application Fee' to the candidates if they do not fulfil the eligibility criteria.

After completion of the admission process (document verification by the Admission Committee) in all respects, on the recommendation of the Admission Committee, the Institute will confirm their admission and admit the students with a temporary registration for Ph.D. Programme. Selected Candidates must undergo one semester of Ph.D. Course work of 16 credits at the Institute. Upon successful completion of the course with a CGPA of 5.5 on a ten-point grading scale, the candidate will be given permanent registration on the Ph.D. registration.

Declaration/Undertaking by Candidates

The candidates, who are admitted to the programme, require to give undertaking as per the UGC norms and Government of Maharashtra resolution at the time of admission/document verification without fail (See Annexure I).

Ph. D. Admission 2024-25

1. Eligibility for Admission to Ph. D. programme:

a. Candidates who have completed:

2. Admission Process

A candidate seeking admission to the Ph.D. programme after notification shall register the online portal and fill the application form and make the application fee payment online the Institute website www.gipe.ac.in.

The admission process is different for UGC-JRF and non-JRF holders. Note that candidates having fellowships other than UGC-JRF (like BARTI, SARTI, NFSC, NFST, and NFOBC) will be

Admission Brochure 2024-25
Gokhale Institute of Politics and Economics, Pune

considered non-JRF, and the corresponding admission procedure will be applicable.

JRF category candidates having valid NET scores can seek admission through the non-JRF route if they prefer. For this, the candidates have to mention this in the relevant field in the application portal, and these candidates will be considered for admission under the non-JRF route, as explained below.

Admission of JRF holders

Candidates qualified for JRF through the CSIR/UGC NET examination will be admitted solely through personal interviews.

Admission of non-JRF holders

Admission of non-JRF holders and JRF holders who preferred the non-JRF route will be based on the UGC-NET score and a personal interview. The final selection will be based on the combined scores of the UGC-NET and interview; the scores will be combined by giving 70 per cent weight to the UGC-NET score and 30 per cent to the interview score.

For Foreign Candidates

For Foreign Candidates Admission will be based on the personal interview.
